Albany Aviator Is In Aero Smash-Up

WAS NOT STOP MOTOR AND WAS HURLED HEADLONG THROUGH FENCE.

Doth., Ga., Dec. 28.—Thornwell Andrews, of Atlanta, the well-known aviator of the Lindsay Hopkins aviator company, narrowly escaped here today in an exhibition at the baseball grounds as the result of his inability to stop the motor of his Curtiss biplane after landing on the field following a night flight before 15,000 people. The machine crashed into the grandstand, hurling him headlong through the galls. He was taken to the hospital with his left arm broken and other injuries.

Andrews had made several spectacular flights the last being high over the city. The wind was unpropitious and he had some difficulty making a landing, when he crashed to the park.

At last he reached the ground in almost the exact center of the grandstand but the machine was traveling at a high rate of speed. The engine cut off and he was hurled forward the northeast corner of the fence. When it struck the fence he fell down, the wreckage of the machine being piled upon it.

Andrews was standing on the sidewalk attempting to jump through a crack. He was borne down in the wreckage and received a serious wound in the head. He was hurried away by ambulance and received the attention of physicians.

Big Career in Atlanta.
Thornwell Andrews who was seriously injured in Albany while fighting after a spectacular flight in a Curtiss biplane, is an Atlanta man, and began his career as an aviator only a short time ago.

The machine he was using at the time of the accident is the property of Lindsay Hopkins, who backed Andrews' last aviation meet. It was at his meeting that Mr. Andrews made his first flight of any distance.

On the second day of the meet he made a trip from the speedway over the federal prison, some two miles away, and returned in safety in spite of unfavorable air conditions. On the following day he repeated this, his real first trip in an airplane, and later in the day jumped into the limelight locally when he not only attempted but successfully made, a flight of considerable distance, when the older and more experienced aviators on the grounds declined to go up because of unfavorable winds.

Since appearing here Mr. Andrews has made a number of successful flights in different parts of the state and according to all accounts was rapidly developing into one of the country's most spectacular bird men. News of his serious accident in Albany has been received locally with great regret by the thousands who saw his plucky flights at the speedway and were proud of Atlanta's only real aviator.

MANY CATTLE DROWN

New Orleans, La., Dec. 28.—More than 1,000 head of cattle have been drowned in Cameron Parish during the past few days because of floods and submerged lands according to Morris Rosenthal, a Lake Charles, La., hide dealer. He said last night that C. F. Henry, one of Cameron's largest cattlemen, had lost nearly 1,000 head and that other stock men had lost large herds of cattle. Practically all of this parish is under water, said Mr. Rosenthal.

MAKES FINAL DESTINY

Free Lecture at the Court House Friday Afternoon, Dec. 28

The International Bible Students Association an inter-denominational organization has arranged for a free lecture in Dothan on Friday afternoon, Dec. 29 at the new Court House. The topic to be discussed is one in which we are all concerned—The final destiny of man.

Daniel Tople, of New York City, will be the speaker of the occasion. In his clear, concise, and logical manner he promises to show from the Bible that Jehovah has a third plan in the Word—and that part that finite man plays in that great plan. He tells us that the Bible is the most up to date book in the world and that when rightly understood it is fully in harmony with Itself and really wonderful in the truths that it contains. Who has not wondered what has become of the 98,000 persons who die every day—what has become of the infants, innocents and the heathen who have died in total ignorance of the "only name"? And where are those who lived and died before Christ came to earth? These and similar puzzling questions will be clearly and satisfactorily answered, we are told Friday afternoon Dec. 29 and the Bible alone will be appealed to as authority.

No admission will be charged no collection will be taken, as the Association has arranged for the expenses in advance of Mr. Tople's coming. Come and bring your friends—but leave your pocketbooks at home. All are cordially invited. Meet then Judge.

Messrs. W. K. Chambers, R. B. Grimsley and A. H. Zorn of Hialeah, were in Dothan today on business.

C. A. Glover of Midland City was in town today.

BOY FATALLY CUT BY HIS COMPANION

STOKEFACE IS INFESTED WITH BURGERS WORKING THEIR SLICK SCHEMES

Florence, Ala., Dec. 28.—Carl Bryant was stabbed five times yesterday by Charles Watkins when the two boys engaged in a fight at the Ashcroft cotton mill. Bryant is seriously ill and Watkins is held in the city jail to await the result of his injuries. The boys are mere kids.

BURGARS ARE BUSY

Burgars have been busy again in Florence during the holiday season. The store of D. I. Garrett and Son, Four Mile Branch on the Huntsville Road, was robbed Monday night. The burglars first untied the delivery wagon of Sharr and Watkins in Florence, and loading, two bundles of goods were under the wagon and the goods were on a truck when the truck was discovered next day. The goods upon carrying it were returned with Garrett to leave the goods until dark when they would be taken and captured the burgars. Garrett removed the goods to his home and the burgars were not caught. The Sharr and Watkins were arrested by the trucks and found with the shirt broken.

A small child entered the residence of J. L. May Monday night in the absence of the family and stole a purse containing $30.

WORME INTERVIEWED IN WASHINGTON

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 28.—Thomas Logan, an editorial writer of the Washington Post, slipped into Atlanta right under the nose of the local newspaper and sent a purported two column interview to his paper with Charles W. Worme, the New York banker said to be slowly dying in the hospital at Ft. McPherson where he was removed from the federal prison for treatment recently.

Conflicting stories appear in the Georgian and Journal as to this interview. The Georgian, which has been fighting for Worme's pardon for many months, carries a very favorable story as to the interview.

But the Journal had a story to the effect that Colonel Vap Oradale, the fort asserts that Mr. Logan did not see Worme but a few seconds but had no interview with him. Logan's story makes Worme say:

"Oh I guess I'm dying. I don't mind that much. I am not complaining. But I wish to God someone would tell the President that I am not a felon. I am not a felon, I have paid every debt, have drained myself to them. I don't care if I die but I am not a felon. And I don't want to die in jail."

The Georgian intimates that the Washington newspaper man came with direct authority from the President to see and talk not only with Worme but the army officials. His story does not quote the military men also.

It seems generally agreed that Worme is in a critical condition and that it is only a question of time until he dies. But he may live months and the fact that the President has taken down his petition for pardon indicates a termination not to be away by all the reasons for Worme's pardon.

THEY SAW SNAKES

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 28.—With copper heads rattles and red dyes withered over the floor and tarantulas and other poisonous insects darted here and there. Firemen today fought a blaze in the bird and snake store of W. O. Learn, on West Commerce street. The reptiles became liberated when the stream of water shattered the boxes in which they are confined. 500 parrots were suffocated and 250 snakes were roasted to death. The financial loss was small.

BIG COTTON WAR NOT NEAR OVER

BOTH SIDES SEEM TO BE BOUND TO FIGHT TO A FINISH

Manchester, Eng., Dec. 28.—Both sides in the big cotton war brought about by the refusal of one man and two women to join a trade union and which caused the lockout of one hundred and sixty thousand weavers and the placing on half time of an equal number of spinners are determined to fight to a finish.

The mills in a score of towns in the north and northeastern districts of Lancashire are at a standstill in a few instances fire has kept going but this is only a sign that the owners are still hopeful of an early resumption of work.

The operatives are firmly resolved to demand recognition of their union. They threatened the strikers throughout the day but it has been quiet and orderly up to now. The dispute spread today to County Durham. The mills at Morpeth owned by the Colliery Printers' Combination locked out their hands this morning and similar actions are expected in other Durham centers. The Cotton Waste Spinners' Federation is to close the mills belonging to its members. It is 10 if the dispute is over. The work in Lancashire is not settled in the future. The next move up means to go to Sir George Asquith of the House of Lords who acted successfully in other labor disputes.

Miss Ruth Lrazier who has been spending the holidays at home with her parents will return to Birmingham Monday where she is engaged to teaching in the Ullman School.

Damaging Fire At Headland Yesterday

GEN. REYES REACHES CAPITAL OF MEXICO

Mexico City, Dec. 28.—General Reyes arrived here tonight. The car in which he traveled was dropped in the freight yards and the prisoners conducted by an unfranked route to the Santiago Millitary prison. There was no demonstration.

The personnel of the court martial which will try Reyes in part was officially announced today as follows:

Generals Jose Maria Mier, Jose Maria de la Vega and Laureo Villalva.

To make these officers eligible they were raised by official act by the minister of war from Brigadiers to Generals of Divisions. In addition General Francisco Ayala was designated as agent of the military public to sit with the officers.

General Mier was governor of Nuevo Leon over which Reyes himself presided previously in the same capacity until ousted by the Mexican revolution. Gen. Ayala was chief of Marine Affairs in the department of War and Marine and later an executive Military Commander in Quintana Roo. Colonel Antonio Montoya and Gen. Alvaro in military commandant at Vera Cruz.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Charles have returned from Birmingham where they went during Christmas for a day or two.

Miss Bonnie Jones of Blocomb is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lantry today.

SEVERAL STORES AND THEIR CONTENTS BURNED FROM FLAMES

Fire at an early hour yesterday morning did serious damage to a number of store houses and their contents at Headland. The fire which occurred about 3 o'clock in the morning was of unknown origin but it is not thought that incendiary acts were the cause. All buildings destroyed were the property of Dr. W. R. Oates of that city.

The flames started in the store of Flood Brothers or the Masonic Hall in the second floor of the same building. This building was destroyed and the contents of the Flood store also. The damage to the Flood store was about $7,000 with $2,500 in insurance. The walls of the building fell causing the damage done to the store of A. I. Mount who also suffered but who carried insurance. The walls of the building in Mount's store the store of J. J. Hough caught fire and was badly damaged but was covered by insurance. The store of the Vann D. J. Floods company suffered damage to the amount of about $1,000. The old printing outfit of the Headland Post was badly damaged as was the cotton office of A. W. Alden. The plate glass windows in the buildings of the Farmers and Merchants Bank and the American Drug company were melted out during the fire.

The buildings of all the property of Dr. W. R. Oates a prominent merchant and citizen of that city who lives in Headland. They will likely be rebuilt soon.

R. H. Dowling of Oark, was in the city today.

Office, Eagle Building East Troy St
Telephone No. 119

Friday, December 28, 1911

The year 1912 should be noted for a year in which many good works were built

Christmas is expected to most people who have it thrust upon them.

W. Morgan Shuster might as well come on to this country and announce for something

It looks like it is a hard matter to get the country to thoroughly understand that Co. of snobs is not going to run again. No Taft has known all along that he wasn't going to run but few other people seem to understand it

That John R. McLean grandchild, that will some day come into possession of more money than he can count certainly rubbed it on hard the other day in Washington in giving a Christmas blow-out

Mr. Morgan seems to like to stay in the public prints (ill he gets out of prison. He would expect not but little difference. He is now taken care of at the government's expense and he is too old to go back north and invent it or invent a lie for a living. He is on a pension and does not know it

The papers are often lax in their duties to the public. A Dothan man fifty odd and fixed advertisement in the papers for a doll and about forty widow pretentiously cause they are not likely to have a penny too nothing as he found it. The advertisement attracted a good deal of attention and the papers went right off and forgot to state whether old Santa put the five doll in the follow sack

COMMITTEE DID NOTHING

The papers are about unanimous in saying the state democratic executive committee did wrong in calling a convention for the convention for the election of delegates to the national convention and also in failing to provide for a second choice delegation. The people are aroused over the matter and are going to elect delegates to the state convention which will elect up a second choice

There is no reason except political trickery why the delegates shouldn't have been chosen at the same primary that choice is made for a candidate for president and the Democratic Weekly

It was simply politics and demagoguery not patriotism and an honest desire to voice the wishes and opinion of the party

The Weekly like the Journal is an ardent admirer and supporter of Oscar Underwood but it doesn't like to see the committee take matters into their own hands which belong to the people

It appears to us that the committee intended to act and set its sails so as to give the people just enough to keep from rising, the inevitable now that would have followed a denial of the presidential primary says the Mobile Item

As the matter now stands, the people of Alabama can express their first choice for the presidential nomination and if that selection fails of the nomination what then? The committee has left a long way for the politicians to go in their way of that without regard to it wishes of the people. The action of the committee is half a loaf for the people and the other half for the politicians

You have been left open for the politicians but the people are not going to allow them to get through without a fight the time has come for the people to show they are the masters and not the servants of any committee. This is going to be one time when the politicians will be fooled

From Mobile to the Tennessee line is registered a protest from the people against the State Democratic Executive Committee's action in taking the right of the people away from them when it ordered the straight Jackson primary and sewed the state up as it thought for one man so as to use him if possible for Sherman. The people have balked. They won't stand for any such action says the Huntsville Times

The Journal believes that a large majority of the voters of the state favor Go Woodrow Wilson for second choice and that the sentiment is so strong the convention will have to instruct the delegates to vote for him should Underwood not elect R. Montgomery Journal

DENTISTRY—OLD AND NEW

Dentistry though considered so entirely modern has been found highly developed in the past. Art was specimens of ancient dentistry may be seen in various European museums. The most interesting of these specimens because the oldest is a Etruscan example of bridge work found in a tomb at Sidon. The specimen is now in the Louvre at Paris and consists of a part of the upper jaw of a woman with teeth united by gold wire. Two of them are represented by the inserted in by gold wire. In the museum of Cairo (which was the oldest) I found the capital of the Etruscan (Roman) may be seen a number of marvelous specimens of dental work of the skill and science of Etruscan dentistry. They consist mainly of bridge work done by riveted bands of metal. One of them supported three artificial teeth. Two of these artificial teeth being made out of a single or tooth grooved to imitate rather closely two human teeth. In the laws of the 12 tables written in Rome B. C. which is expressly forbidden to bury gold ornaments with bodies a special exception is made for gold with which the teeth may perchance be joined together. The Museum of Pope Julius at Rome, containing a gold cap made of two small plates of gold stamped out to represent rather closely a middle lower incisor and these two pieces soldered together to form the crown of a tooth. The native poets of Rome especially Martial refer frequently to artificial teeth, says the Journal of the American Medical Association in an entertaining discussion of this subject. Martial speaks of an old woman who was so old that she ran away her teeth fell out. (as an epigram he answers the question why one woman's teeth are dark while another's are white though both are the same age by saying that one of them buys her teeth, while the other has her own. The Romans had a number of different kinds of dentifrices, and took great care of their teeth. Galen describes a form of pusill containing acorn and anise which might be used as toothache gum. The filling of teeth with various kinds of metal is described by Celsus though the first real reference to gold filling does not occur until about the middle of the fifteenth century. The transplantation of teeth especially from the mouths of slaves into those of their mistresses seems to have been practiced rather commonly in the early days of the Roman Empire

IT IS AN INTERESTING FACTOR IN THE FIGHT

Many of the close observers of political conditions so far as they bear upon struggles for presidential nominations think they see a steadily increasing force on behalf of Roosevelt's nomination for the presidency by the republican party

Undoubtedly there is a strong movement towards Col. Roosevelt. It is equally true that a large number of the leading Republicans are afraid President Taft cannot be re-elected, and they are unwilling to undertake to run in some man as a compromise of whom the public knows little

WHAT A MURDER

Birmingham is in a plight. You can name your own kind of a plight but it is in one

Probably the Birmingham papers are the most humorous papers published in the South. They are humorous because of their seriousness. The News which is in debt nearly all the time and especially when the question of prohibition is up reads it with a will that is pathetic

About the blind tiger story in that city it says: Blind tiger is becoming firmly established during the times of prohibition its eradication has proven a problem difficult of solution. A few years ago the keeping of liquor for sale in private dwellings, houses particularly was unknown. In the prohibition regime the tiger sought safety under the cloak of respectability. It was the Birmingham News and the Age-Herald, that so often said the only solution for the blind tiger was the legalized sale of whiskey, and they thought the proper way to handle whiskey was by saloons, well regulated saloons, to be sure. Now listen in another place

Now the blind tiger is still with us

Extra admitted defeat it owns the corn the saloons do not make for good citizenship any more than prohibition

We know the remedy but Birmingham has never seemed ready to adopt it. We suggested some time ago that the only way to kill tigers in that county was to leave them to all who were inclined to run tigers

According to reports most of those who have licenses were for tiger operators. Most of the ones who applied were tiger operators. If they failed to get what they wanted they didn't propose to be put out of business. They have not been if reports are true

The real humor in the News complaint is that it blames all on prohibition. When we had prohibition laws they were responsible for tigers. Now they have local option and all the saloons they need. They still blame it on prohibition

We wash our hands of it

If Birmingham can't settle her liquor problems she can go without it. We have done our duty in pointing the way

We are not surprised the town is being undermined by water. Water is not popular on the face of the earth in Jones Valley and since it is not needed for drinking, purposes or for bathing purposes certainly they do not need it for irrigation purposes. In the cotton water was in the plan. If not needed above the ground it must go to low

Many of the close observers of political conditions so far as they bear upon struggles for presidential nominations think they see a steadily increasing force on behalf of Roosevelt's nomination for the presidency by the republican party

Undoubtedly there is a strong movement towards Col. Roosevelt. It is equally true that a large number of the leading Republicans are afraid President Taft cannot be re-elected, and they are unwilling to undertake to run in some man as a compromise of whom the public knows little

It is a delicate situation with the republicans. To let go Taft would be in the nature of an admission that his administration has been a failure. And there is already a widespread impression in that direction. To take up a new man would be too much in the nature of a wholly uncertain political experiment

The truth is the republican party is between the devil and the deep sea so to speak in the matter of a nominee who can command an encouraging support against the strong claims of any of three men most prominently proposed for the democratic standard bearer. But in the light of conditions and prospects there is no doubt that Roosevelt is looming stronger as the time approaches for the nomination

In this connection the old saying that the American people do admire a man who does things and who can usually advance plausible explanations of the why and wherefore finds a practical application. Roosevelt does things. Taft's record has put him more and more in the negative category. His wobbling attitude toward the tariff has driven many republicans who think for themselves away from him. First slapping the progressives in the face then trying to court favor with them. First standing solidly with the Aldrich Payne element and in influence and offering between stations explanations. First for a revision of the tariff then making the veto and the commission report an excuse for delay until the rub is over—in fact through a wish washy attitude of nothing positive and still less courageous the president has produced an impression that he is a misfit in the White House

And there is no doubt that Roosevelt in his rags at the administration's policy and record now and then his affiliation with the progressives at opportune times and his remarkable record of keeping in the limelight by attracting the plaudits of the public at the most effective moments suggests the view that he has got to be reckoned with

Undoubtedly he is the most potent factor in the republican party on the outside and the proposition is well he is content to remain on the outside much longer. It does not look so now. It will be interesting to note the tactics of this resourceful figure between now and the assembling of the Chicago convention.—Birmingham Ledger

What to Eat?
YOUR daily problem of what to eat is very easily solved—

pass it on to us. It is not what you eat that has alone to be considered—it is the quality of what you eat. It is easy to say "Let's have some special dish for dinner," but the mere buying of the materials for that dish does not make your dinner a success. You must have the best of everything to get the fullest enjoyment from the meal.

Our reputation is built on selling the best of groceries. We have studied the "what to eat" problem for our own sake as well as yours. Come in and let us talk it over.

SOME COMMON DISHES.

The common vegetables are so often used in the same old ways until we grow tired of the monotony. Let us try:

Cabbage Baked with Cheese.—Chop cabbage and cook it in boiling salt water for half an hour or an hour, put it in layers in a baking dish, alternating with a white sauce and grated cheese, and bake in a hot oven until the cheese is brown.

Turnip and White Sauce.—Wash the turnips and cut the slices into thin slices, cook in boiling salted water for half an hour, drain the water off, and when the turnips are tender, turn into a saucepan, add a little butter and a little milk, and pour the sauce over them.

Cottage Pie.—Chop cold meat to fill a baking dish. Over the top of the meat spread mashed potato, and has been warmed with a little milk. Mix with gravy, season to taste and put into a hot oven to brown the top.

Sour Milk Gingerbread.—Take a half cup of molasses one-half cup sugar two tablespoonsful of shortening one cup of sour milk one teaspoonful of ginger half a teaspoon of salt one teaspoon of soda and two cups of flour.

Cream the shortening and the sugar, molasses salt and ginger. Dissolve the soda in the milk which is now added, and lastly the flour. Beat well and bake in a flat loaf thirty to forty minutes.

Carrots in Lemon Butter.—Cut the carrots in long slender strips and lay in cold water to crisp. Cook in boiling water until tender enough to pierce with a fork. Drain and to each pint allow a tablespoonful of butter, half a teaspoon of salt half a teaspoon of sugar and a dust of cayenne. Simmer until the butter is absorbed, then add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and a tablespoon of chopped parsley. Roll up and serve at once.

Nellie Maxwell.

Never cover the fish skillet. It will cause the fish and will cause a big fish to crumble.

Salt will curdle milk. Hence, in preparing milk porridge, gravies, etc., the salt should not be added until the milk is prepared.

Never wash marble with soap and water. Use ammonia in the water. If you would have a highly polished, clean surface after your trouble.

To keep white silk gloves from turning yellow with the necessary frequent washing, wash in cool water with white soap and put bluing in the rinse water.

If in making a chocolate filling or any boiled filling for cakes if you add a little long and harden too much, stir in a little milk without boiling again.

To whiten clothes and keep them in that condition, add a spoonful of borax to the last rinsing water. The borax should be dissolved in very hot water before adding to the rinsing water.

To the woman with a family of small children the question of keeping the woodwork free from finger marks is difficult indeed. Dip a cloth in paraffin oil and rub the spots. They will immediately disappear.

WHEN ZEMO AND ZEMO SOAP ARE USED

The W. L. Brown's Drug Store says "We are so confident that ZEMO AND ZEMO SOAP used together will rid the skin or scalp of infant or grown person of pimples, blackheads, eczema, dandruff, insect bites or any form of itching irritation, disfiguring skin or scalp trouble, that we do not hesitate to recommend these clean refined remedies to every person who desires quick relief and a cure from any form of aggravated skin or scalp affection. Of course, one bottle and one cake of soap will cure a minor case of skin trouble."

ZEMO AND ZEMO SOAP produce sure and swift results. You will not suffer another day after you commence to use them. You will feel like a new person.

ZEMO AND ZEMO SOAP both can be obtained from one leading drugist in every city or town in America and in Dothan by W. L. Brown's drug store.

Imperial Family Ready To Leave China Capital

EMPHATIC WILLING TO SUBMIT TO A NATIONAL CON- FERENCE

London Dec. 28.—A telegram from Peking today in the Exchange Telegraph Company says that the imperial family has decided to leave Peking.

Peking Dec. 28.—A 4:17 p. m. train has agreed to Premier Yuan Shi Kai's suggestion to refer the question of the future government of China to a national conference and to abide by its decision whatever it may be.

The dowager empress, Li and Yuan Shi Kai and the Manchuk princes of the imperial clan debated throughout the night burning the scheme for calling together a convention of delegates from all parts of the empire to decide on the form of government.

Prince Ching, former premier and minister of foreign affairs, urged the acceptance of the proposal. Premier Yuan, member of the grand council and Prince Tsai Tao, former minister of war and brother of the present premier, were on the other hand strenuously opposed the scheme.

Thus, among the Manchu princes present who were in favor of the acceptance of the proposition finally prevailed and the decision was reached to leave the settlement of the future form of government in the hands of the delegates selected by the nation.

The cabinet has been instructed to draw up the regulations which shall govern the national convention.

In view of the attitudes of the monarch and constitutional imperial government officials, consideration of the question whether the rebels will agree on the long delay involved from the will of a national convention.

Despite this, however, the act of the throne leaves no room for doubt that he advises of the recent and the emperor's prepared for abdication should that course prove to be the only way of settlement.

The decision taken at the meeting of the imperial clan and the Premier Yuan Shi Kai to submit the question of the future government of China to a national convention was followed quickly by an imperial edict in the following terms:

On Wu Ting Fang, chief of the revolutionary delegates to the peace conference at Shanghai and the other content that the people of China desire a republic. The question whether the government not a section of the people of China is able to decide. Therefore a national conference is necessary. The princes and members of the imperial clan agree to let the cabinet inform the revolutionaries and then frame regulations for a conference and arrange for an extinction of the arms.

The dowager empress sanctions the calling together of a conference as she is desirous to avoid blood shed and to bring happiness to the people of China according to the wishes of the majority.

5 MEN ARRESTED FOR GUN- SHOTS IN YEN

Yidalia Ga. Dec. 28.—Five men are being held in Doombos County jail charged by a coroner's jury with the recent murder of Miss Nettie Newsom at her home 15 miles from this city on the Atlanta city.

It is reported that the five men who had been drinking, heavily met one night at Spivey's store a small shop in the neighborhood and that a man named Tyson left his companions two in a named Bob and the others whose names have not been ascertained to persuade Miss Newsom to come to the store and play the piano for them.

Miss Newsom's refusal to do so have made Tyson angry and it is reported that he left the house and took them to a building in the town just the by men then left the shop for the Newsom home and Spivey the shopkeeper's friends trouble followed them. He had not gone far before he was shot and Miss Newsom ran down the road and fell dead at his feet with a bullet hole through her body.

MRS. FORD ENTERTAINED

Mrs. F. S. Ford entertained her club at lunch Thursday afternoon. The shaded candles added a glow of warmth over the room which was decorated in Christmas colors out flowers and carnations prevailing.

Miss Mattie Crawford, having the highest score was awarded the club prize. Delightful refreshments carrying out the color scheme were served in two courses. Each guest carried away a fragrant red carnation as a souvenir on the occasion. The club members were: Miss Helen Brown, Mrs. I. S. Lord, Miss Lois Grubbs, Miss Patti Granber, Miss Ida Reid, Miss Opella Hunter, Mrs. Hugh McIntosh, Miss Mattie Crawford and Miss L. L. Whidden.

MISS HICKMAN $20 GOLD PIECE FOR $1

Charlie McLean of Columbia was in the city a while today and while here reported an oversight that caused him to lose $20 in Dothan last week while enroute home from school.

McLean says a negro who he alludes was Will Stuart, driver of truck No. 1 a $20 gold piece for payment of a hack fare of $1 and the mistake was not discovered until he was on the trap enroute home. He phoned back to Dothan that night and again the next day when the negro was found by the officers. More than the amount lost was discovered on the negro's person but the gold piece has not yet been located. McLean states that he noticed the negro carefully eyeing the coin after he handed it to him and that within a few seconds he had jumped into his carriage and left the station. The gold coin was the only one he had in his trousers pocket and this he declares is another reason why he knows the negro and the money.

Cold Catnip
Is catnip required? One pick of seed tomatoes firm and ripe. Put them cold without cooking. Chop fine in a mixing bowl and strain off all the juice. This is imperative for if juice is not all strained off the chopped tomatoes this catnip will not keep. Add to the tomatoes one teaspoonful of chopped onions, one teaspoonful of chopped celery, one teaspoonful of quarter of a teaspoonful and one teaspoonful mustard seed, one teaspoonful of ground cloves, one teaspoonful of black pepper, one teaspoonful of ginger, one red pepper chopped fine and all ingredients together in large glass jar, then take three pints of pure cider vinegar and mix thorough by then bottle. This catnip will keep for three years if care is taken to store the tomatoes free from juice, and pure cider vinegar.

Girl in Her Teepee Was a Battle With Brute and Came Off Victorious
Fort Forward, Wash.—On a lonely mountain trail in Chelan county, Miss Mary Schmitt a girl in her teens had a battle with a bear in which she came out victorious. Miss Schmitt was employed at the Hotel Marysboro and decided to visit her parents who lived 39 miles away. She started out on the journey alone armed with a revolver, loaded by one of the party. She had proceeded 15 miles when she sighted a bear in the trail coming toward her. She shouted thinking that the animal would take to the bushes but instead it continued to advance. She opened fire after every shot she hit the bear left the trail going back the right of way. After she reached the place where the bear lay to the left. For the found dead and in twenty minutes the animal lay dead as a result of one of her shots.

Sacred Siamese Feline Personal Gift of Prince Djamahranj of Royal Siam Family to Hotel

Boston.—A sacred Siamese cat in which the soul of a departed Siamese emperor is alleged to reside has been given to its owner, Miss Louise Silverado No. 24 Somerset street. The cat is a personal gift to Miss Silverado from Prince Djamahranj of the royal family of Siam, having been given to her by Bangkok Siam. The Siamese believe in the transmigration of souls the souls of emperors taking up their habitation in the bodies of their species of cats. Accordingly the cats are kept only in the royal palaces as objects of religious veneration, with capital punishment prescribed for the man who kills one.
